

Personal Injury Statute of Limitations

Q. How long do I have to file a personal injury claim?

A. The statute of limitations determines how long you have to file a claim.

Here in Georgia you have 2-year statute of limitations. That lets us know that we have to file a claim with the Court within 2 years.

That's why it's important that you hire us as soon as possible after any accident. Especially, if you were involved in a tractor trailer accident for there's a lot of investigation that we need to do for those type of cases.

So, call us as soon as possible any time you have an accident.
